Plants Management Australia (PMA) would like to extend its congratulations to Wes and the team at Fleming’s Nursery who in partnership with Phillip Johnson Landscapes were awarded the ‘Best in Show’ at the 2013 Chelsea Flower Show.

The winning garden display, ‘Trailfinders Australian Garden’ presented by Flemings, featured a billabong, waterfall and a stunning studio in the shape of a waratah flower. It is the first time an Australian team has taken out this coveted award.

2013 is the centenary of the Chelsea Flower Show. For 100 years the inspiring garden displays have drawn huge crowds to the grounds of Chelsea Hospital in London. It is widely considered the world’s most prestigious flower show, drawing visitors from all continents and attracting approximately 550 exhibitors each year.

PMA is delighted to have been able to contribute to the winning Australian display by providing the well known native favourite Acacia ‘Limelight’ for inclusion in the garden. Bred by renowned native experts, Native Plant Wholesalers of Mt Gambier, ‘Limelight’ is widely recognised as the original and best dwarf Acacia in the marketplace. It is famed for its lush lime green foliage and compact form.

PMA’s Managing Director, Mr Chris Sargent, spoke of the announcement;

“Many consider Chelsea to be the Olympics of the horticultural world and for Wes and the team to achieve such success is truly outstanding. The entire team are so deserving of the recognition and it is fantastic for the Australian nursery industry as a whole. We are delighted that one of the flagships of our portfolio could be involved, ‘Limelight’ is an outstanding plant and it is fitting recognition for the breeder for his plant to be involved on this global stage.”
