- Compact mop-top hydrangea well-suited to pots
- Long-lasting blooms

USES

- Use in containers or tubs
- Use on the balcony, planted out in a shady section of the garden, or indoors if desired
- Perfect for small gardens, patios and courtyards
- Add a touch of class and colour to shady entertainment areas
- General garden use

CARE

Hydrangeas prefer a bright position but sheltered from direct sunlight and hot winds. Plant in most soil types that are well draining, and keep the roots moist through extended periods of dryness. Prune back to about a third of the size, to a set of green buds during winter. Feed in early spring with a slow release fertiliser for best results. Fertiliser more often if grown in containers, according to manufacturers recommendations.

CAUTION: Harmful if eaten/skin & eye irritant
